More Hitching Racks! Is Demand of Ohio Village

LONDON, July 1.—The erection of hitching posts for horses and wagons has been ordered by the village council at Plain City near here. In the majority of towns and smaller cities of the United States the hitching racks from the streets to make parking space for the ever-increasing number of automobiles. But that is not the case in Plain City. Plain City is the chief trading place for hundreds of members of the Amish settlement in the northern section of this country and since the Amish still look upon the automobile as something out of their religion they continue to use the now old fashioned horse and buggy. So in recognition of the need for more parking place for the horse-drawn vehicles Plain City has voted an order for the erection of hitching racks on the village square. The racks are to be of a modern make and electric lights will afford illumination for night travel.

WABASH AFTER TRUNK SYSTEM

Hot Fight for Control of Strategic Railroads Looms Today

APPLICATION FILED

Wabash Plan Third Before Commission, Minor Roads Important Cog

WASHINGTON, July 1.—A hot fight for control of a number of strategic railroads in various consolidation plans came today following the presentation of the Wabash plan to the Interstate Commerce Commission. The fight will center particularly for control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, and the West Virginia and the Western Maryland.

The Wabash plan is the third now before the commission for consideration. The Baltimore and Ohio and Chesapeake and Ohio plans having been filed some months ago. In each of these plans the three major roads mentioned play an important part in linking up the systems. In some quarters it is believed that the Wabash plan has the best approval of the Pennsylvania.

On top of this the Poplin brothers of Cleveland who control the Pittsburgh and West Virginia want to get the Wheeling and Lake Erie and the Western Maryland and they intend to put up a battle royal against the Van Swearingens who control the Chesapeake and Ohio. The Willard family of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Wabash crowd.

The Wabash plan contemplates the acquisition of the Lehigh Valley, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Western Maryland, Lehigh and New England, Akron Canton and Youngstown, Tiffin, Toledo and Ivesdale, Toledo and Western and the Chicago and Illinois Midland. A sixth interest in some short lines and tracking rights over the Pennsylvania, Rock and Grand Trunk Western at certain points also is sought.

Need Routes Claim

The Wabash application and it was obviously in the public interest that the great industrial districts in and about Pittsburgh should have turn to Page 2

FLIER KILLED WHEN HE HITS WALL MAST

Kansas City Pilot Believed To Have Crashed in Fog Bank

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 1.—An airplane crash in which Wally D. Robey, 24, Kansas City, crashed pilot for the Continental Airlines, Inc., was killed early yesterday morning today left the local radio station WATG unable to broadcast.

Robey who was piloting for the City of Columbia, now attempting to shatter the world's endurance record, drove his plane into the reaches of the radio station which reaches 200 feet up into the air.

The plane and wire tower, which was located immediately adjacent to the Elks Country club north of here, were demolished and Robey was almost instantly killed when his wrecked plane crashed crazily to the ground.

GREASE AFIRE

Thousands of New Yorkers See Ship Believed to Blazing

NEW YORK, July 1.—Thousands of persons in downtown office buildings were excited today as they saw the transatlantic liner Deutschland, apparently afire, steaming up the lower bay. A large pot of grease on a stove in the kitchen had boiled over, caught fire, and sent off effects of flame and smoke through the main ventilator.

Most of the passengers on the newest of the Hamburg American liners knew nothing of the incident. However, the liner was not leaving quarantine and ship news reporters, customs men and immigration inspectors were going up the companionway as the first sheet of flame burst forth.

CITY BOARD TO READVERTISE PAVING JOBS

Threatened Court Action Causes Cancellation of Tentative Contracts

CENTER ST. INCLUDED

Decision To Receive New Bids July 17 Made To Avoid Tie Up of Work

Threatened with several months of court procedure that would at least temporarily tie up three direct paving jobs the city board of control Saturday rescinded action taken Wednesday letting tentative contracts for paving East Center st. Chicago as Lake st. and Waples st. and decided to re-advertise for paving bids on those streets.

Omission of an item from one of the four irregular bids submitted June 1 for the three paving jobs is responsible for the threatened litigation and action of the board to re-advertise.

The irregular bids were not considered by the board of control in making tentative awards Wednesday. The board decided to reject the irregular bids and tentatively awarded the work to P. Brake & Sons for paving Center st. from Main st. to Baker st. Contractors Bracke & O'Connell had submitted a lower bid than was irregular.

Action Threatened

Little attempts were made by the low bidders to iron out these irregularities but when the board of control, acting on the advice of city solicitor G. I. Gorman that the bids were not legal refused to consider them court action was threatened.

Rather than hold up the paving work for several weeks or perhaps months the board rejected all bids on the Center st. job. As Chicago as Lake st. and Waples st. paving work was included in an ordinance to pave Center st. they must be readjusted. Also although the original tentative letting of these jobs was not questioned Contractors for Chicago as Lake st. and Waples st. were tentatively let Wednesday to Churchill & Co.

Date for Bids Set

Sealed bids will be received until Wednesday noon, July 3, for paving work on Center st. from Main st. to Baker st. Chicago as Lake st. and Waples st. from Prospect st. to east terminus and south to McKinley park. Lake st. and Waples st. are combined to make one paving job.

AUTO SKIDS FROM ROAD AND UPSETS

Two of West Virginia Family Slightly Injured in Accident Near Marion

An accident due to the slippery condition of the roads occurred about 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning when a Buick sedan belonging to V. W. Bork of Clarkburg, W. Va., overturned about one mile west of Marion on the Harding Highway.

The Borks who were enroute to Chicago escaped unharmed when their car overturned with the exception of a few cuts, none of them serious sustained by Mr. Bork and his youngest son. Mr. Bork who was driving while he had started down a small grade and was forced to apply his brakes suddenly when a car started to go around him with another car coming from the opposite direction. The Buick started to skid and when it hit the loose gravel went into the ditch turning over and finally coming to rest on its top.

The car was brought to the Albert Brothers garage here by the Alberts wrecker. The Buick had the entire left side badly bent and the engine damaged. The windshield glass and the windows on the right side were broken.

The family continued on their journey on a Greyhound bus about noon yesterday.

TILDEN ONLY HOPE

WIMBLEDON, Eng. July 1.—Big Bill Tilden became America's last hope in the men's singles of the Wimbledon championships today when he defeated Pierre Landry of France in a quarter final match while George H. Lott of Chicago the only other American to reach the quarter final was being eliminated by Jean Borotra the flashing Basque.

PUBLISHER DIES

PRINGFIELD, July 1.—William C. Hewitt, 69, publisher of the Tribune, a local weekly paper and active member of civic and philanthropic enterprises, died suddenly at his home here today from angina pectoris.

VIOLA GENTRY BETTER

MINNEAPOLIS, July 1.—Miss Viola Gentry, a violinist who was seriously injured last Friday when her plane in which she was flying for a new endurance record crashed, was reported slightly improved today at the Nassau hospital.

Cleveland Fliers Soar On and On in Effort to Set New Air Endurance Mark

Byron Newcomb left, Roy Mitchell center and L. E. Basham right are striving to send the plane Cleveland above to a new endurance record.

Fog Lifts Enough To Permit Refueling After Anxiety Was Caused by Aerial Conditions, Ship in Air 65 Hours at 11:38 a. m. Today

CLEVELAND, July 1.—Two weary aviators Byron Newcomb and Roy Mitchell soared on toward a hoped for new endurance record today in their Stinson Detroiter monoplane City of Cleveland.

They had been in the air 65 hours at 11:38 a. m. and the last message they dropped in front of their hangar at the airport indicated their motor was giving no trouble.

Much concern had been felt through the forenoon because of the inability to take fuel and other supplies to the endurance plane due to a heavy fog. Shortly before noon the fog lifted enough to permit refueling when the endurance fliers signaled they were ready. At 10:15 they dropped a note which read:

Everything okay. Have about three hours fuel.

The lead plane pilot A. J. Lenoir, Basham, on mail pilot on leave, was loaded with gasoline and water by roadmen to show off with his car, upon receipt of a note from Newcomb and Mitchell that they were ready for the next coast.

A thick mist hung low over Cleveland at 6 a. m. in the scheduled hour.

HEAVY RAINFALL REPORTED IN OHIO

Accompanied by Electrical Storm, Lightning Cripples Light Service Here

Electrical and rain storm played havoc with the entire state yesterday, press dispatches indicate. Two persons were killed in Cincinnati by lightning and another was killed in Elmhurst, Ky. near Cincinnati by a lightning bolt. A large number of trees were blown down during a storm.

Severe conditions experienced in neighboring sections did not prevail in Marion although 1.40 inches of rain fell here during the day. This is considerably higher than average rain fall here.

Brilliant electrical displays occurred during the day. A spout of fire burst at Vine and Fifth streets was plunged in darkness during the Sunday school hour yesterday morning when a charge of lightning, resembling a ball of fire struck a light pole near the church disintegrating some wiring. Many homes in that neighborhood were temporarily without electrical service.

Very little damage was reported to the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. and the C. D. & M. Electric Co. yesterday officials of these companies say. No poles were reported down.

No Serious Crop Damage

It is thought that very little damage was done Marion county crops during the storm although there was standing water in low-lying fields this morning.

One of the heaviest rain storms in years swept Hardin county yesterday. Stiff winds assailed the rain and electrical storm in blitting fields of crops. A total of 2.11 inches of rain fall was recorded during a 2.5 hour period, the highest mark for this section since the 1913 flood.

Traffic in Hardin county was temporarily halted during the worst part of the storm there yesterday. Trees were blown from trees and many.

THEY LIKE TO FISH

Plain City Pair Drive 500 Miles, Get 22 Fish—All in 36 Hours

LONDON, O. July 1.—What is believed today to be a record fishing trip of this area has been established by Bob Coberly, traffic officer, and Lester Treck, garage man of Plain City who traveled 400 miles caught 22 fish in a Michigan lake and were home within a space of 36 hours.

The two men motored to Houghton Lake Michigan, in 17 hours, fished 10 hours, caught their string of fish and drove back home in 13 hours making a total of 36 hours for the 400-mile trip and fishing outing.

OFFICERS' NET SPREADS INTO 3 COUNTIES

Four Nabbed in Marion County, Two in Union and Hardin

DRUGGIST IN LIST

J. J. Weimer and Four Others Due To Be Arraigned in Toledo Today

Federal prohibition agents again scooped Marion police and sheriff officials when they swooped down on the county late Saturday and returned to Toledo with the persons. Six arrests were made in the roundup but one of the persons arrested was taken to Columbus being a resident of Union county and in the Columbus district.

Two arrests were made in Marion, one near Ashtabula and one in LaRue and one near Lima in Hardin county. The other was made by agents from the Columbus office in Lucas county, south of Lima.

Those arrested in the roundup are J. J. Weimer, North Main st. druggist Herbert Blue of Union county, Ralph Johnson farmer of near Ashtabula, Ernest Shorty Fisher, Joe Junk dealer, S. M. Hare of Hardin county and Lloyd Gillette, of Lima.

Blood Not Guilty

John J. Fisher and Gillette entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned before Commissioner P. W. Johns in federal court. Bonds were set at $3,000 for each. Fisher had not been arraigned early this afternoon. He is expected to appear in court voluntarily. The others were taken to Toledo Monday.

John J. Weimer pleaded not guilty in court in Columbus and in federal court in Columbus pleaded not guilty. The federal agents had been working in Marion and vicinity for several weeks according to information received here today. Their operations were unknown to Marion police and the county sheriff's office.

When Weimer the druggist, appeared in court today he will face charges of illegal sale and possession of intoxicating liquor. According to the officers who make the arrest Weimer made illegal sale to them on the different occasions. The Weimer store is located on North Main st. between the Erie and the four railroad tracks. Tenant on farm.

Johnson of Ashtabula, will be charged with sale possession and maintaining a nuisance. The arrest of Johnson leaves Deputy Sheriff Roy Chapman without a tenant on his farm. Johnson had been a tenant on Chapman's farm for some time.

Fisher will be charged with sale, possession and maintenance of a nuisance. Charges of sale and possession will be placed against Gillette and Hare.

OLD TARIFF BATTLE LINES ARE DROPPED

Democrats and Republicans Vie with Each Other on Protection Rates

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The old tariff battles between protectionists and free traders have become fiercer, it appeared today, as Democrats vied with Republicans before the senate finance subcommittee in urging adequate tariff on home products.

The old Democratic allies of Louisiana and Florida have led the Democrats, pleading for tariff protection. In Louisiana, the sugar interests made the loud cry while in Florida the fruit growers led the hue and cry for high tariffs.

While the struggle over sugar rates is certain to be the climax of the tariff debate in the senate, after that body reconvenes Aug. 20, the battle over tungsten ore rates will run it a close second. And to the probable surprise of old line Democrats Democratic senators will fight for a manganese tariff while Republican senators will be urging a place for it on the free list.

This about face on the part of Democrats and Republicans—so far as their party records are concerned—will be due to the use of manganese in steel manufacture. Senators Ashurst, Democrat of Arizona, Hayden, Democrat of Montana, and Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, already have urged a tariff of one cent a pound on manganese ore to protect the ore producers of that state.

Nevis Will Die in Electric Chair Tonight

COLUMBIA, Mo., July 1.—James T. Nevin, 32-year-old Great Lakes sailor, will embark on his last cruise here tonight when he will be strapped into the electric chair at Ohio State penitentiary and made to ride a gale of current into eternity's boundless and uncharted seas.

Nevin whose greatest propensity during his stay in "death row" has been the writing of scorching letters to friends and penitentiary officials, was sentenced to die for beating Trenton's former executive of the General Motors Corp. to death with a lead pipe while both were being held in the county jail here.

CHANGES ON C, D & M. TAKE PLACE TODAY

New Officials in Charge with Retirement of Van Deine as President

Changes in officials of the C. D. & M. Electric Co. made necessary by the retirement of A. F. Van Deine as president and general manager became effective today.

W. P. Moloney, company attorney, is the new president of the organization and L. C. Stang is vice president and general manager. J. D. Preston succeeds Mr. Stang as superintendent of the electrical department.

Mr. Van Deine's retirement, announced a few weeks ago, was effective today. Employees of the company turned out nearly 100 per cent to attend a farewell party given in his honor at Delaware last Tuesday night. He and his family have left Marion to make their home at Orlando Fla.

ARREST YOUTH AND RECOVER $10,000

Akron Bank Messenger Victim of Holdup Pair, Barborton Resident Held

AKRON, July 1.—Following arrest of Frank Hartz 22 Barborton this afternoon police announced they had recovered approximately $10,000 earlier in the day from E. W. Jackson Industrial Savings and Loan Co. bank messenger.

Police said Hartz was driving toward his home when he saw a follow-up car approaching and immediately put on speed in an effort to escape. After his capture he told the police where the money was hidden, police said.

Hartz was then taken to police headquarters for a telling as to the identity and whereabouts of his companion in the holdup.

Many Hurt in Crush at Mexican Churches

MEXICO CITY, July 1.—Many persons are today under treatment for injuries received yesterday in a mighty crush that marked the resumption of religious masses at the famous old Basilica de Guadalupe. So great was the crowd which gathered for renewal of religious services, following settlement of the church question that 50 were overcome.

Many suffered semi-asphyxiation. They were treated on the scene by Red Cross attendants.

Plumber Kills Contractor, Then Takes Own Life

PHILADELPHIA, July 1.—After fatally shooting Charles Gray, 34-year-old plumber, and wounding Joseph E. Taylor, 15, in the leg, Alexander W. McElhenney, Mr. 56-year-old contractor, today fired a bullet into his own brain. He is the father of three children.

Gray did some work for Mr. McElhenney and the contractor refused to accept it and pay for it. They met on the street today and resumed their quarrel. Gray was killed and the boy hit by a random shot by two bullets fired by the enraged contractor. McElhenney then rushed home where he fired a bullet into his brain, dying almost instantly.

of having stuck in the ground, crashed back into the cockpit, crushing the two passengers.

New "Prop" Used
Only one reason could be assigned for the crash by airport officials. It was pointed out that a new propeller had just been fitted on the plane and that this was the first flight with the new "prop."

It was probable the experts said, the new "prop" failed to give the plane enough lift to fly with three persons aboard.

A week ago Sunday Stultz had a narrow escape from death in a Sikorsky amphibian. He had flown to the Harvard-Yale boat races and was returning home when he ran into dense fog. The plane emerged from the fog near a rocky cliff like shore and only by banking sharply, and landing uneventfully, was Stultz able to avoid crashing. One pontoon was ripped off the plane but Stultz escaped injury.

RALPH WITNER, 27, INJURED IN CRASH
Pennsylvania Operator in Gal-ion Hospital with Fractured Skull

(Special in The Star)
GALLIUM, July 1.—Ralph Witner, 27, Pennsylvania telephone operator, residing near Crestline, is in a critical condition at Good Samaritan hospital here, suffering from injuries sustained when his machine was struck by a westbound Big Four passenger train at Crestline about 7:30 p. m. today.

At this moment, he sustained a fractured skull, abdominal injuries and bruises about his face, and the little finger of his right hand was torn off. He had not regained consciousness at noon today.

The accident happened at the Main St. crossing at Crestline. At that time, Witner was driving westward. He had been called to work extra on the third track at the telephone office. He was thrown about 30 feet from the car. The machine was wrecked.

Witner came to Crestline about four years ago from Indiana. He is married and has two children, a son, aged four years, and Dorothy, three.

NEW IMMIGRATION QUOTAS IN EFFECT
13,000 Less Foreigners Will Enter United States Next Year

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The new immigration quotas, framed on the basis of national origins, went into effect today.

President Hoover made an unsuccessful effort to prevent the change in quotas, but congress was deaf to his plea and as a result some 13,000 less immigrants will enter the United States next year than this year. What is more important, the nationalities of incoming aliens are radically revised.

The old quota of Great Britain and northern Ireland is practically doubled under the national origins act, while Germany and the Scandinavian countries are cut approximately half.

Under the national origins act 155,741 aliens will be permitted to enter the United States each year as compared with 167,617 permissible under the quotas based on the foreign born population in the United States in 1900, in effect for several years.

Small Schooner Leaves New York With Rich Couple, His Seaman

NEW YORK, July 1.—The schooner Kink-yon, only 90 feet over all, today ploughed its way through the waters outside New York harbor with one of New York's richest couples and five ordinary seamen aboard.

The wealthy couple, who hope to reach Cones, England, within 30 days, in time for the great squadron yacht races off the Isle of Wight, are Leonard Ockwate and his wife, the former Georgian Schodell, Washington, D. C. society beauty.

The vessel, much smaller than Christopher Columbus' flagship, Santa Mar, sailed from an East River pier yesterday. The yacht, a two-masted of 70 tons, was built especially for ocean travel and can endure the roughest weather.

Lineman Killed
SANDUSKY—Glenn Jakes, 32, of Bellevue, a Northern Ohio Telephone Co. lineman, was electrocuted shortly before noon today when a telephone wire with which he was working fell upon a high tension electric power wire near the U. The acquisition of this vital, strategic line together with the Pittsburgh and West Virginia, will not only give the Wabash direct access to the Pittsburgh district, but will preserve an important existing competition.

Must Take in W. M.
"With the extension of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia to a connection with the Western Maryland at Connetquot, Pa., it is essential that the Western Maryland be included in any system which includes the Pittsburgh and West Virginia and the Wheeling and Lake Erie, thus affording coal operators on these lines access to the Great Lakes and the northwest, as well as to the Atlantic seaboard."

The application stated in the belief that the four-system groups in eastern territory, as proposed by certain competitors, is unworkable without such merging of strictly competitive lines and such distortion of existing channels as to defeat fundamental safeguards of the transportation act.

FIRM BIDS $1,320 FOR GARBAGE FARM
Six-Year Lease on City Land Goes to Cincinnati Company

City officials were busy today drawing a contract to lease the city garbage farm to The Terminal Service Co. of Cincinnati. Representatives of this company placed a bid with C. A. Benedict, director of public services, for $1,320 for lease of the 30 acres of land and the right to the city garbage.

This is by several times the largest bid ever placed for the lease and garbage rights.

There was one other bidder, W. L. Johnson, former leaseholder, who offered $455 for the combined rights. This is an increase of $5 from the amount he formerly paid.

The lease of the city farm runs for six years. The Cincinnati firm was desirous of a longer lease, but this was not permitted by law. It is understood that the company will improve the farm, and completely systematize the work there. The garbage is currently used for waste food.

Under the terms of the new garbage rights, the city will haul the garbage directly to the firm on Agoston place, near the sewage disposal plant. Instead of the old dumping lot near the incinerator used here for years.

The Cincinnati firm, which handles the entire output of garbage of several large Ohio cities, was represented here by John A. McJoynt and William Bryant.

Search Vessel for Liquor Law Violations
HOBOKEN, N. J., July 1.—Once more today customs officials were continuing a stern search of the President Dredging of the U. S. Lines for liquor law violations.

This time thieves, apparently in possession of the keys, broke into the ship's strong-room, smashing two custom seals, and stole 79 of the 142 bottles of brandy stored among the vessel's medicinal stores there.

RHOADES SWORN IN WASHINGTON, July 1.—Charles J. Rhoades, president of the American Indian Defense association, was sworn in today as commissioner of Indian affairs, succeeding Charles H. Burke, South Dakota.

Bohey was believed to have been flying in a fog bank. He was on his last trip from Cleveland to Louisville before arriving a 10-day vacation. Imposed on charges that he neglected a turn immediately after taking off from a flying field, which is prohibited by the federal aviation code.

Another pilot, Charles O'Dell, was following Bohey's Travelair plane in a ship of a similar type to learn the route.

O'Dell did not witness the crash, however, as he had been lost in the fog bank a few minutes before.

Caddies at a country club dragged Bohey's body from the debris.

A card in the rear of the pilot's pocket requested that Mrs. W. A. Bohey, Hidden Mo., be notified in case of an accident. The name is believed to be that of his mother.

There was also a clipping from a Cleveland newspaper in the man's personal effects, which led him to have had successfully landed for more than a hour and a half near Cleveland and then brought his plane to a safe landing.

Fog is believed to have caused the crash yesterday.

HOLD FATHER AFTER SHOOTING HIS SON

Dayton Man Says Revolver Accidentally Discharged as He Displayed Gun

DAYTON, July 1.—A father who shot and killed his 6-year-old son, LeRoy Holton, was being held in county jail here today pending an investigation of the tragedy which occurred yesterday afternoon.

The father, Morgan Holton, 32, declared he was showing his son his revolver when one of a .45 caliber discharged accidentally and sent a bullet through the body of his son, who died almost immediately.

Holton in making his explanation of the shooting to authorities, declared he and LeRoy had been hunting for the boy's toy pistol and that when they were unable to find it, he decided to show the boy his own two revolvers.

WINS PRIZE

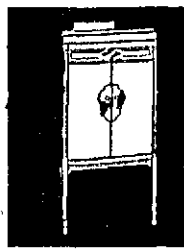

Miss Marion Boyd, 17-year-old Detroit miss, was presented with a certificate by President Hoover for her winning slogan, "This Is Your Country—Beautify It," in the contest sponsored by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and conducted by the Art Center of New York. The slogan will no doubt be a household word from now on, as the national campaign to encourage the beautification of American rural localities swings into action.

AUTO RUNS IN YARD AND KILLS CHILD

Mother Attempts To Lift Machine Off Girl; Another Daughter Held

ELYRIA, July 1.—Anna Shuman, 11, is dead and her sister, Margaret, 4, is in Amherst hospital in a serious condition today as the result of being run down while at play in their own yard by a skidding automobile.

The car was driven by Albert Tembler of Norwalk. It skidded on the road, struck a telephone pole and ran into the yard of Joseph Shuman near Amherst, striking the children.

Mrs. Shuman rushed into the yard and tried to lift the car from Anna's body, while the horror-stricken driver and his wife sat prostrated in their wrecked machine.

Tembler was detained for questioning, but the sheriff said it was evident the tragedy was purely accidental.

Margaret, suffering from a broken collar bone, is expected to recover.

FRISCO AND RETURN

Many fliers have tried the flight from coast-to-coast, and many have succeeded in making it. Capt. Ross G. Hoyt intends to do better than this and make the flight a round-trip. Flying a Curtiss pursuit plane, Captain Hoyt will attempt to make the 5,300 miles' jaunt from San Francisco to New York and back within 35 hours, which means he will have to average 150 miles per hour. Captain Hoyt was one of the pilots in the "Question Mark."

ALLIANCE COUPLE BRUTALLY MURDERED

Police Trace Life History of Man To Find Motive in Slayings

ALLIANCE, July 1.—Alliance and Stark county authorities today began tracing the life history of Sam De Palmer, 48, in an effort to discover the motive for his brutal murder here last Saturday night. He and his wife, Devona De Palmer, 38, were shot down on the porch of their home.

De Palmer and his wife were killed almost instantly by an unknown assailant who ambushed them from a secluded place in the shadows near the home and shot the couple as they entered their home with their two children, Lem, 6, and Dominic, 8, who witnessed the tragedy.

According to police, De Palmer served a number of years in the West Virginia State penitentiary and was given freedom when he turned state's evidence. Police were linking this and the revenge theory as the motive for the killing.

Two Alliance suspects who were arrested Saturday night, were released Sunday.

WARREN MAN KILLED

Shot to Death When He Refuses To Halt; Wanted for Robbery

DETROIT, July 1.—Investigation was started today by the prosecutor's office into the death of Louis Sullat, 21, of Warren, O., who was killed when he fled to avoid arrest.

Sullat, who was wanted here on a robbery charge, was also wanted in Toledo for robbery and in Pittsburgh on a bombing charge, according to police.

Patrolmen Clarence Harbo and William Barke, who attempted to capture Sullat, claimed they fired at him when he refused to obey their commands to halt.

Thomas Prior, 39, was returned from Toledo today for questioning regarding his friendship with Sullat.

Dayton Man Says Revolver Accidentally Discharged as He Displayed Gun

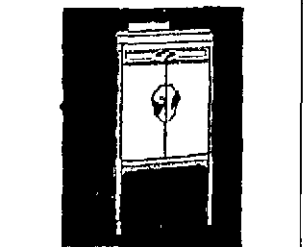

DATTON, July 1.—A father who shot and killed his 8-year-old son, LeRoy Holton, was being held in county jail here today pending an investigation of the tragedy which occurred yesterday afternoon. The father, Morgan Holton, 32, declared he was showing his son his revolver when one of a .45 caliber discharged accidentally and sent a bullet through the body of his son, who died almost immediately. Holton in making his explanation of the shooting to authorities, declared he and LeRoy had been hunting for the boy's toy pistol and that when they were unable to find it, he decided to show the boy his own two revolvers.

WINS PRIZE

Miss Marian Boyd, 17-year-old Detroit miss, was presented with a certificate by President Hoover for her winning slogan, "This is Your Country—Beautify It," in the contest sponsored by Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and conducted by the Art Center of New York. The slogan will no doubt be a household word from now on, as the national campaign to encourage the beautification of American rural localities enters into action.

GIRL MISSING, MAN SOUGHT BY POLICE

Child Said To Have Entered Automobile To Get Bill Changed

AKRON, July 1.—Search for an unidentified man who claimed he represented a Cleveland photographer, was started today by police investigating the disappearance of 12-year-old Orma Truett.

Mrs. Lewis Truett, mother of the missing girl, told police her daughter left home yesterday in a coupe with the photographer to go to a nearby store. She went after change for a $10 bill out of which the photographer was to be paid for portraits of Orma's little brother.

The girl was last seen by a grocer at whose store she tried to change the bill. When he could not make the change for her, Orma left the store and entered a coupe, the storekeeper said.

Tire Blowout Leads to Liquor Charge Arrest
ZANESVILLE, July 1.—Because that had the misfortune of having a blowout, necessitating a change of tires and due to the appearance of Motoreville Officer Howard Ardrey who was very much on the job, John Love and Louis Silbert, both of Philadelphia, are being held in the Zanesville county jail here today, awaiting federal charges.

A consignment of grain alcohol and Scotch whisky valued at $3,000 was confiscated from their car.

WAR VETERAN DIES
COLUMBUS, July 1.—A military funeral will be held here Wednesday for William F. Pink, 66, one of Ohio's youngest Spanish-American war veterans, who died in M. C. Cannel hospital here yesterday, following an illness of seven months.

ERIES TO OPEN TUESDAY

Aviation Program

He left Hooters Jr. Captain Frank Hauke and F. Trubee Davison war secretary for aeronautics.

In addition to the addresses by the seven there will be a musical program to be presented by a 25 piece concert orchestra and a male quartet.

Frederick R. Rentschler, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce will launch the series with a brief explanation of the purpose of the broadcasts after which he will introduce Mr. Lamont.

WAR MEDIA FEATURES WHITEWATER PROGRAM

A WAR media including such well known times as "Over There," "Hinks Dicks," "Ladies First," and "Lippert's" will be a feature of the program that the Old Gold White Water program will present over the Columbia network at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. The program will be broadcast from Universal City Cal. where White Water and his band are now located.

Such popular numbers as "You Belong to Me," "Run Run Run," and "Honey" will conclude the program. The fourth to be broadcast by White Water and his band from the Pacific coast.

HOT WEATHER COMES TO COLLEGE STONE

An unsolicited wave of summer heat has descended upon the College Drug Store, waiting callers and causing a run on Sun's celebrated soda fountain during the next broadcast of this popular collegiate feature of the air over the WJZ network at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

Keeping bewitching Barbra and the porter's baron with his rather suspicious oil stock will all be present.

MAX BROADCAST PARACHUTE JUMP EXPERIMENTS in broadcasting from a falling parachute are being conducted this week at Roosevelt Field, New York by the National Broadcasting Company. If tests are successful it is planned to relay the sensations of a 10,000 foot drop over a wide hookup of the NBC system on the night of July 4.

A unique parachute transmitter has been developed by R. M. Morris, NBC development engineer, which involves the use of a chinstrap microphone keeping the instrument at a correct distance from the lips no matter how the speaker's head is turned.

To this week are being made by Charles Juhenne De Bever, parachute instructor at Roosevelt Field, who claims to be the youngest instructor in that dangerous life in the world.

VOICE OF COLUMBIA GIORNIES AMERICA

MUSIC glorifying the American nation will make up the greater part of the program of the Voice of Columbia over the Columbia network at 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

Victor Herbert's American Fantasy will head the list of national music and two selections in honor of the south, "Way Down South in Heaven" and "Evolution of Dixie" will further elaborate this theme.

Mechanics American Patrol will provide an additional touch of patriotism with Sousa's Stars and Stripes forever bringing the program to a close.

Many other numbers, both classical and semi-classical will be heard on this program. Outstanding among them will be included arias from the operas of Verdi, Gounod, Beethoven, Massenet and Bizet.

AUTO RUNS IN YARD AND KILLS CHILD

Mother Attempts To Lift Machine Off Girl; Another Daughter Held

ELRIJA July 1—Anna Shuman, 11, dead and her sister Margaret, 4, in Amherst hospital in a serious condition today as the result of being run down while at play in their own yard by a skidding automobile.

The car was driven by Albert Tember of Norwalk. It slipped on the road struck a telephone pole and ran into the yard of Joseph Shuman near Amherst, striking the children.

Mrs. Shuman rushed into the yard and tried to lift the car from Anna's body while the horror-stricken driver and his wife sat prostrate in their wrecked machine.

Tember was detained for questioning but the sheriff said it was evident the tragedy was purely accidental.

Margaret, suffering from a broken collar bone, is expected to recover.

FRISCO AND RETURN

Many fliers have tried the flight from coast to coast and many have succeeded in making it. Capt. Ross G. Hoyt intends to do better than this and make the flight a round trip. Flying a Curtiss pursuit plane, Captain Hoyt will attempt to make the 5,300 miles from San Francisco to New York and back within 15 hours, which means he will have to average 350 miles per hour. Captain Hoyt was one of the pilots in the Question Mark.

WARREN MAN KILLED

Shot to Death When He Refused To Halt Wanted for Hobbies

DETROIT July 1—Investigation was started today by the prosecutor's office into the death of Louis Sullat, 21, of Warren, O., who was killed when he fled to save his life.

Sullat, who was wanted here on a robbery charge, was also wanted in Toledo for robbery and in Pittsburgh on a bombing charge, according to police.

Patrolmen Clarence Harbin and William Burck, who are out to capture Sullat, claimed they fired at him when he refused to obey their commands to halt.

Thomas E. Rorer, 39, was returned from Toledo to face questioning regarding his friendship with Sullat.

Pleasant Graduate

To Broadcast Oration

Mecon, Kentucky, of Pleasant township will broadcast his oration. The value of farm accounts in which he won second place in the late recent and agriculture contest.

Richard Francis Now Member of Payne Band

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Francis, 208 Hill street, have received word from their son Richard that he has secured his connections with Jack Wright and his band of Dubuque, Ia., and has joined Art Paynes band in Louisville.

Francis had been with the Wright band for the past year, prior to which time he was with the Paynes.

The Payne band will open the summer season in the 4up theater Garden at Duluth Minn., tonight.

ALLIANCE COUPLE BRUTALLY MURDERED

Police Trace Life History of Man To Find Motive in Slayings

ALLIANCE July 1—Alliance and St. Clair county with rifles today began the life history of Sam D. Palmer, 18, in an effort to discover the motive for his brutal murder here last Saturday night. He and his wife, Della De Palmer, 35, were shot down on the porch of their home.

De Palmer and his wife were killed almost instantly by an unknown assailant who rushed them from a secluded place in the hallway near the house and shot the couple as they entered the home with their two children, Lena, 6, and Daniel, 8, who witnessed the tragedy.

According to police, De Palmer served a number of years in the West Virginia State penitentiary and was given freedom when he turned state's evidence. Police were linking this and the revenge theory as the motive for the killing.

Two Alliance suspects who were arrested Saturday night were released Sunday.

Daily Proverb—"Speaking without thinking is shooting without aiming."

Be good to little Willie. He may not be with you two or three days hence.

Here days have passed, and yet we haven't had the slightest hint regarding Max Schmelling's favorite author!

With halftones as big as baseballs falling in South Africa, what profit could there be in being an Icecream there?

If we get the thing correctly, it is not so much the fare in Holmberg Jett which has pulled on "Scarfaced" Al Capone as the surroundings.

It's a bit hard for us to understand why
none of the elephant manufacturing concerns has as yet put out packages tied with pink ribbons.

Another mother with four sons in the United States navy has been discovered, and it's just possible that she never even heard of that song so dear to feminist pacifists.

The past spring and thus far this summer
it has been either so wet or so chilly here
at home that one couldn't be much worse off at a popular summer resort, excepting, of course, the inconveniences to which one is put when vacationing.

You never can tell. Since Germany has refused to renew the law keeping former Emperor William out of the country, he may conclude that he doesn't want to return.
Possibly advantage was taken of this well-recognized trait in humanity.

Apocryphal of the cases of Mrs. Rosika Schwimmer and Dr. Clyde Macintosh, it may be possible to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, but there is utterly no chance of making a good American out of a pacifist.

Covering them with an empty revolver,
a young woman held up two bank employees on the street in the heart of Topeka's commercial district, one day last week,
and escaped with $14,000, but what will it profit her? She is bound to become the prey of some other criminal, almost all of them do,
and ultimately will have to pay the penalty of her crime. It's the rarely exceptional criminal that profits through crime.

Somebody is thought to have worked off
a one-dollar bill raised to a ten on the criminal branch of the Akron municipal court in payment of a fine, but it's equally possible
that the one passing it may have appreciated
the accommodating ways of the Akron court and proffered it in exchange for smaller denominations of real money.

Worse Than a Leaking Trunk.

A letter bearing the purported signature of Senator Arthur R. Gould, of Maine, was produced in federal court in St. Louis, last week, by the Colony Vintages company, of the Mound City, in defending a $100,000 damage suit instituted by a Cincinnati concern which charges that the company's products in many cases "spilled in the hands of customers."

The letter, dated May 11, 1927, was addressed to the Fresno Vineyard company, a predecessor of the Colony company, and represents that the senator got "some very fine
results" and that "three gallons in each keg
is improving every month."

"As you know," the letter continues, "I came from a prohibition state and I am supposed to be a prohibitionist, but I am about as loyal to the prohibition element as some of these southern Democrats are to the Democratic party."

"While I am from a prohibition state and
and it is not policy to be too outspoken as to my sentiments, I don't mind telling you and the world that I believe a license for light wines and beer would be a great improvement over the present prohibition law."

Assuming that the letter was as purported, we have here the chief obstacle to the enforcement of prohibition. Too many who hold themselves out to be its friends are its greatest enemies, and this is especially true
when they happen to be members of our law-making bodies, secretly hamstringing the law
which they publicly champion.

Such a letter as this which bears what is said to be the signature of the Maine senator is even more detrimental to the cause of prohibition than a leaking trunk as a part of the baggage of a congressional dry.
Like the leaking trunk, it destroys confidence in our laws by destroying confidence in those who make them.

About the only thing to be said for the senator is that he doesn't seek to evade the authorship of the letter, virtually admitting that it expresses his sentiments—in itself a welcome departure from the course followed by some other members of congress recently in the public eye who have been long on explanations or alibi.

A Menace to Health and Life.

Addressing the annual convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy in session in Montreal, Dr. O. R. Bonewitz, professor of internal surgery in New York Medical college, told the gathering that carbon monoxide gas thrown off by motor vehicles had become a menace to the health, if not the lives, of people living in the great congested population centers of the country.

"Right now," the doctor said, "the people of New York, Chicago and, to an increasing extent, Montreal and other cities where automobile congestion is rapidly becoming almost as bad as in the biggest cities of the United States, are steadily poisoning themselves by repeated doses of the poisonous monoxide gas, hauled in invisible clouds at street intersections where there are jams and traffic holdups and clouds of gas pour out of the massed cars.

"Experiments have recently been made with guinea pigs," the doctor continued, "and it was found that three or four minutes of exposure in the atmosphere of a traffic jam
were sufficient to produce visible signs of gas intoxication on them.

"Other experiments were made to see as to the height to which the gas rose, and it was found that not until 200 feet had been reached was the gas entirely dissipated."

Doctor Bonewitz went on to say that he hadn't a doubt but what much of the horreous and general impatience manifested
by motorists when they are caught in a jam and have to wait a while at an intersection or elsewhere are caused by the fact that drivers are beginning to get headachy from slow monoxide poisoning, and as a consequence
can not control their nervous irritation.

There can be no question but what all living things suffer from the effects of monoxide
gas. It has not been so many months ago that report came from Paris that the beautiful trees which line that city's most famous thoroughfare, the Avenue des Champs Elysees, were dying as the result of the poisonous gases being thrown off by motor traffic. It is true that these trees are subjected day and night, year in and year out, to the gases. They never escape the poisonous fumes.

But people residing in localities in great population centers where traffic jams are frequent are not so greatly better off. It is conceivable that gas is thrown off in such quantities and so frequently in such localities that the air becomes impregnated with it and remains so during the heavy traffic hours.
And if such gas will poison and kill big,
healthy trees, how can the human system be expected to withstand it?

There has been wonderful development in the motor car in many ways; in most ways, in fact. No development possible would transcend in importance such means or method of overcoming or neutralizing this menace of carbon-monoxide poisoning which lurks in its operation. The man who will find some method to remove this menace will be a highly benefactor to the human race.

Incidentally, going back to Dr. Bonewitz's statement, if the doctor is right regarding the reason for the hankering in traffic jams, his explanation does away with the very general assumption that such hankering are the result of zero developments of motorists. It would be pleasing to know that he is right in his view.

It has been developed that almost all the United States embassies in Europe and most of the American legations are dry. Not at all surprising. How could they consistently be otherwise with the country they represent legally dry?

The mayor of Lorain has given notice that the driving of newbyeds through the streets of that city to the accompaniment of the honking of horns and the rattling of old tin cans will no longer be tolerated. A decidedly sensible action on the part of the Lorain mayor which should be emulated by the mayors of all population centers, Marion included, where there are evidences of traffic
which are throwbacks to savagery.

Uncle Sam now has a tank capable of traveling fifty miles an hour with a caterpillar band and from eighty-five to 115 miles an hour without one. Even in war we true advocates of the land will no longer be able to escape the greatest peace-time menace to life and limb.

Last Friday, five years to the day from the date of the great storm which swept through northern Ohio doing many millions of dollars' damage, almost the same section was visited by a near-cyclone, which blew down trees and unroofed buildings and caused much damage, with this difference: the city of Lorain which was the greatest sufferer five years ago was not touched. Old Mother Nature evidently was putting on another compensation stunt.

To remain in the air for 160 hours and then be forced down within twelve hours of the endurance record was the fate of the Minneapolis fliers, Haugland and Johnson, last week. That's what some people would be inclined to denominate the picture of hard luck.

Juanita Gallardo, a young Mexican girl who aided her lover to escape from jail in Joliet, Illinois, two years ago, on the eve of his execution for murder, last week took poison and ended her life. Crime brings its penalty without regard to age, sex, nationality or condition of life. The guilty, sooner or later, must pay for their sins.

Captain Frank H. Hawks may well be proud of his achievement in making the round trip from New York to Los Angeles and back
in thirty-six hours and forty-eight minutes, actual flying time, covering the return in seventeen hours, thirty-eight minutes and 18 3-5 seconds. No better evidence of the amazing development in flying may be had than by comparing Hawk's record back with the weeks taken by Cal Rodgers to make the transcontinental trip the other way.

THE BACK SEAT DRIVER.

Don't Neglect Tonsils or Adenoids.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

The school year is at a close. Many children were not promoted because of ill health during the past term. The sad thing is that in most cases the illness could have been prevented, or the defect, whatever it is, might have been corrected.

One of the most common causes of school absence is tonsillitis. There is hardly a day that my staff does not include letters from parents about the way their children breathe. They mention that the youngsters snore or fail to hear properly. This is not surprising.

Most children have very sensitive tonsillar tissues. With some of the little patients the tonsils are almost chronic. This leads to frequent attacks of tonsillitis.

"The tonsils in a normal throat are not large.
They are found on each side of the throat, of course, but do not protrude to the middle. If displaced, whatever it is, might have been corrected.

Between the nose and the above parts of the throat you see when the mouth is open, is the location where adenoids develop. These are masses of tissue in appearance like the tonsils. In shape
these masses look not unlike bunches of grapes.
As the adenoids grow they fill up the pharynx
just as a sponge would. This makes the breathing through the nose very difficult and causes the child to breathe through the mouth.

Tonsils should be removed if they are displaced,
but not merely because they are large. Adenoids
are sure to interfere with proper breathing, reduce the amount of food consumed with the reducing the amount of oxygen. For this reason they should be removed.

Every parent hesitates to submit his child to any sort of an operation. But it is unwise and unsafe to neglect surgical procedure in a case of adenoids.

In my schools the doctor examines the child for nose and throat troubles. Word is sent to the parents so that the family can take action. If your doctor recommends the removal of adenoids, all means follow his advice. The welfare of the child depends on a prompt decision.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

S. L. B. Q.—What will cure a headache, and what would cause a condition lead to it neglected?

A.—Operation is the only cure. If neglected this condition will lead to a discharge sinus and may develop into cancer if not properly treated.

M. S. W. Q.—How can I reduce?
A.—Eat very sparingly of starches, sugars and fats. Get regular, systematic exercise. A gradual reduction in the amount of food consumed with the regular exercise will work wonders in most cases.

Use equal parts of lemon juice and peroxide
as a bleach.

Mrs. J. Q.—My baby is one week old and hiccups and sneezes a great deal. What can I do to remedy this?

A.—As to probability the little one nurses too fast. Hold her erect after nursing in order to allow the child to belch the air it sucks in while nursing.

MRS. M. Y. Q.—What can I do about my
A.—The diet must be corrected. Almost always constipation or sluggish bowel movements are present.

A. L. M. Q.—What do you advise for correcting "tosses"?

A.—You should give every attention to your diet.
Constipation must be corrected.

D. M. Q.—What is the cause of cracking joints?

A.—This is due to lack of synovial fluid. Massage the joints with warm oil before returning.

A. H. L. Q.—What can be done for pimples?

A.—I would suggest that you correct your diet
by cutting down on sugar, starches and coffee.
Avoid constipation.

E. S. W. Q.—Will arthritic supporters strengthen weak ankles? What do you advise?

A.—Yes, properly fitted shoes and arch supports should be most beneficial under the circumstances.

Dinner Stories.
The man had rushed into a drugstore for pain and the druggist had asked him a question that relieved him. As he rested, the proprietor asked:

"Have you any idea what poisoned you?"
"I guess it was one of my wife's sandwiches."

"Ah, yes," said the druggist with a shake
of the head. "You're taking an awful chance eating these sandwiches unless you're sure they're put up by a registered pharmacist."

He had had his Chinese cook for years and finally, after a particularly good dinner, decided to raise his pay. The following day the Oriental came round and asked how come
he was not paid.

"Oh," said his employer, jovially, "that's because you're such a good cook."
"So," said the Chinese with a frown. "You been cheat me long time, huh?"

Editorial Opinion.

AMERICA AND THE YOUNG PLAN.

Made by Americans, as it mainly was, the Young plan, it now appears, is to be reflected and administered without any semblance of official American participation. Yesterday's announcement by Secretary Stimson seems to leave no doubt on that score. Following within twenty-four hours of the visit which Messrs. Young, Morgan, Lamont and Pierpont paid at the White House, the announcement assumes special significance.

The four American representatives commissioners, however, after their recent arrival in Paris, are undoubtedly to have been particularly anxious for the representation of the Federal Reserve system on the directorate of the new international bank. The bank created by the Young plan is to be the pivot around which all of Europe's financial and their transfer to her European creditors will revolve.

Secretary Stimson reaffirms that the United States will not take part in the collection of reparations, nor is the Federal Reserve to contribute directors to the international bank. President Hoover, whose influence, it goes without saying, was paramount in this decision, thus addresses to the policy steadily maintained by two preceding administrations, that reparations are exclusively the business of Germany and the allied government. As to the international bank, Colonel Stimson points out that the Federal Reserve system, being so closely bound to the government, will not be permitted to name directors, because inevitably they would constitute at least semi-official American participation in the international financial operations.

All this puts the record straight. But the fact remains that the United States is already indissolvably linked with the whole broad question of reparations. Senator Borah, commenting on Secretary Stimson's statement, makes that recognition of that circumstance. Congress, the senate and the people are bound to take action. It is not the Young plan. It will, on the contrary, "show an entire willingness," Mr. Borah thinks, "to sacrifice considerable sacrifices in order to contribute to the economic stability which the reparations settlement is expected to establish."

The isolation, in saying that, speaks with the voice of a statesman. When Secretary Stimson declines to participate in the collection of reparations, he is not declining to participate in the Young plan. It will, on the contrary, "show
an entire willingness," Mr. Borah thinks, "to

A Mediterranean Trip.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

For some time I have been telling you about various places in all parts of the world. I have jumped from here to there, describing the wonderful sights I have seen,
but always talking about those places of which I have been reminded by some passing incident or have event. But possibly a more complete account of the wonders and beauties of one complete section of the world will be interesting, so in my next few articles I am going to tell you about the exquisite Mediterranean country.

And as a proper prelude today we are going to visit the Madeira Islands, which are in truth, the logical place from which to start a Mediterranean pilgrimage. The Made-iras, you know, lie but a few hundred miles
almost due west of the Strait of Gibraltar.

The Madeira group, which has been under Portuguese control for the past 500 years,
no other nation having considered it worth while to seize these—groups of four islands.
Only one of them, known as Madeira, is of any importance, however. On Madeira will be found about 145,000 out of the 150,000 total population of the group. Funchal is the largest city of the island, and is, in fact,
the port for the entire group. It is a charming city and one of the most beautiful of its kind in the world.

Madras is a beautiful city and one of the most beautiful of its kind in the world. It is a charming city and one of the most beautiful of its kind in the world. It is a charm-

CITY BRIEFS

Sauer Funeral Held—Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Schaffner Queen funeral home for George J. Sauer, who died Friday night in St. Francis hospital, Columbus. Dr. B. L. George, pastor of Epworth, M. L. church of which Mr. Sauer was a member, was in charge of services. Burial was made in Marion cemetery.

Critically Ill—Mrs. Fred Horchster is reported critically ill at her home, South View.

Removed from Hospital—Mrs. Laura Markel, Lucerne av., was removed from the University hospital at Columbus, Saturday, to the home of her sister, Mrs. George Pether, 723 Delaware av.

Attend Funeral—Mrs. J. W. Headley, 140 John st., Steven Foley, of Detroit, and Mrs. James Foley of Kalamazoo, Mich., have returned home after spending Saturday at New Lexington, O., where they attended the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Katherine Fox.

Leaves Hospital—James Neeslerode was removed from City hospital to his home, 678 Sugar st., in the U. R. Curtis Co. invalid car, Saturday afternoon.

Receiving Treatment—J. W. Lauer, of Radnor, was received at City hospital Sunday for treatment.

SERVICES DEDICATE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Former Pastors Take Part in All-Day Program at Caledonia

CALEDONIA July 1.—Dedication services were held Sunday at the church of Christ which has recently been completed. A good attendance was present at the morning session which opened with a song by the congregation, "Holy, Holy, Holy." The call to communion was followed by a solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple," by Miss Smith of Columbus. Lord's supper was followed by a song by the congregation, "Break Thou the Bread of Life," after which C. A. Couble, of Indianapolis, gave an address, "The House of the Lord." After the postlude, 200 persons went to the basement where a basket dinner was enjoyed.

At 2 o'clock the meeting opened with a prayer by Mrs. Lee presiding at the piano. Following a song by the congregation, "Joy to the World," a quartet contributed a selection. Several ministers from out of town were present and extended greetings. Among them were, Rev. M. L. Buckley, Marion; Rev. W. L. Wolford, Bluffton, Ind.; Rev. H. W. Hille, Rev. Bruce, Bucyrus; Rev. Ellis, Mt. Gilford.

Two selections were then given by the K. H. quartet and C. A. Couble delivered an interesting sermon, "The Church," "The Church." The afternoon session closed with the benediction and postlude. After luncheon and a social hour the evening session opened with a song service led by Charles E. Lile. A male quartet from Calvary Episcopal church, Marion, contributed a selection and several solos. Mrs. C. F. Mitchell sang a duet, Rev. F. S. Pauley, pastor of Memorial M. L. church, gave an invocation and extended greetings. Mrs. Swain sang a solo and the dedicatory sermon was delivered by C. A. Couble after which Rev. C. F. Mitchell, former pastor of the church, delivered a sermon, "The Church," "The Church of a Successful Church." To be successful a church must be a prayerful church, a working church and a spirit-filled church, were the three points emphasized by the speaker.

In behalf of the church, Charles E. Lile expressed appreciation of the donations that were made. The brass quartet, led by John L. Lile, presented the "Dedication" hymn, from the estate, as a memorial for his father, Christian Lile.

This church was organized in 1915 with 25 members and now has a membership of 100. J. D. Keenan was the

NAME OFFICERS AT SCHOOL REUNION

Charles Retterer Elected President at Richland Township Meeting

Charles Retterer was chosen president at the third annual reunion of former teachers and pupils of District No. 1 School, Richland township, held yesterday at the school building east of the city. Other officers are Philip Richmond, Richland, vice president; Charles Smith, Marion, secretary; and William Keener, Richland, treasurer.

Mrs. John Olson, Marion, Charles Smithson, Marion, Mrs. B. F. Retterer, Prospect, Dennis Gompf, Marion, and Mrs. Mary Olson, Marion, were named on the program committee for next year, and William Witzel, Charles Wick, George Miller and Edgar Richmond, of Richland, were named to serve on the committee on arrangements. Plans were made to hold another reunion the last Sunday in June next year.

Covers were placed for about 75 at a picnic dinner served in the school building and about 125 attended the program given in the afternoon. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Wadon band whose members were presented a gift of seven dollars, netted in a collection taken by the reunion guests.

Clinton Dader of Winona, Ind., and Charles Ault, state representative from Marion county, were the speakers of the afternoon. Short talks were given by a number of visiting former teachers and pupils. Dennis Gompf, retiring secretary, presented the minutes for former meetings in rhyme and entertained with the reading of school laws back as far as 1845.

An Absorbing New Emotional Serial of Love and Life
on the Stage

BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

LEN

But nowadays she was sure no more never since Tabor had disappeared had she known case of mind for a moment but in her lover's arms and then only because her senses would no, let her think.

Did he love her as she loved him? Would she ever know?

Was this then to be her last punishment never to know, but to go on clinging blindly to something that were the face and form of love and might have no more substance? Or would she some day find heart to test his and prove it for what it was?

Was it intuitive perception of his faithfulness—what he couldn't help—that made her hesitate less the less love her even more naked than she felt today bereft of vanity's last shabbiest shift?

Was she to him more an affair—another one? Would he ever keep his promise to break with that poor child as soon as it was safe as soon as the cleavage might be managed as to seem unimpeded by its situation for another's wife?

Did he believe he would make good the word he had pledged who had so often broken his pledged word to other women? Did he love her? She had to know.

Would he keep a woman waiting whom he truly loved as he was keeping her waiting? He knew that she had been expecting his call ever since noon.

She found herself at peace in front of a long mirror and a small gasp related what it had to show her. This would never do.

With a strong effort of will she recomposed herself; untwisted her fretted brows, ironed out those fretted brows made her mouth rest from its worshipping forced a smile into her eyes.

She was so comforted to see herself, at least outwardly again as flawless and fair as she must be forever smile.

Surely one who so loved beauty would never turn from her!

But how maddening to have to go on like this living from day to day—living! Lance had laughed from his mouth—in ignorance whether or not she were free to make care of her love public to seize it to her and hold it fast.

If as marriage ever made love care for any woman!

Or any man!

Poor Tabor!

The eyes that looked back from the glass darkened with wonder. For the first time in many months she was thinking of her husband in any term but one of resentment.

Now till at an end she was sorry for him.

After all he had adored her and had never known what her love could be; she herself had never known that till she had thought her.

Poor Tabor! who had not only lost her whom he had never truly loved but now was beyond learning from any woman what love could mean.

For he was surely dead no other accounting for his absence from home his silence could be accepted by any but who had known Tabor well.

The most simple-minded single-hearted and honest of souls his life so open that a surreptitious hand never so much as hinted it might hold any passage of common intimacy impossible to think of such a one as having with no incentive conceivable distorted himself without warning from the love he loved his home his wife.

He had loved June too well to have been wise with her ever to have entertained a question as to her loyalty of that she was satisfied.

Had it not come out that on the very morning of his disappearance he had been shopping on Fifth avenue for a string of black pearls to replace those which she had led him to believe were false?—never the conduct of a man who had reason to think his wife faithless.

And then it was known he had drawn a huge sum of money out of his bank to pay for the necklace presumable that same morning and the whole country, let alone New York, was no longer in these poor war times a holed of crime.

Tabor's own physician had scouted the suggestion that a mad so posed and one could by any chance have suffered a seizure of amnesia causing him to lose touch with his own idea of people to whom that sort of thing happened he had insisted were normal, as Tabor wasn't broken; but yes, supply to his own suggestion.

And the police and detectives had from the first been pledged to the theory of foul play. Somebody there argued had unquestionable speed on Tabor in the bank, followed him, cramped acquaintances and lured him to a spot where it had been possible to burn his robbery with his body.

No Tabor was dead and she free—but only in her private conviction the community would not call her a widow till the fact of Tabor's death had legally been established by years on end without sign from him the law would not sooner countenance a second marriage.

June's vision dwelt in desolation on the weary vista that opened out of years made barren by waiting enforced.

And no time to love if she were to save her love alive.

A single year was a long time she thought for any woman to hold the love of a man like Lance who in all women were so ready to lose their heads about, and who was bound to one woman by nothing but the frail threads of love exchanged when their consummation had seemed a chance remote if a chance at all.

And any day all her faith to the contrary notwithstanding Tabor might come home again.

While she stood there with hands idle and helpless.

Willing out of mind the possibility that while she was using the telephone Lance might call up and be told the line was busy, June sat at her desk and asked to be connected with the Taborville home.

Have you found out anything she urgently demanded of May. You know what I mean that matter I asked you about a few days ago.

Yes darling, Tod found out last night at the club. He managed to get John Sloan talking—you know John's a lawyer—and he says—

Never mind don't tell me now—nor over the wire—

Then run over and I'll put you wise dear I'm not doing any thing.

Oh but I can't—I'm waiting for a telephone call.

This laugh was throaty with cynical indulgence. Then I'll come to you. I'd have suggested it first, only I wasn't sure you'd be alone.

Don't be stupid dear, you know perfectly well now—I'm not taking any chances.

Oh aren't you? Then it must have been (toddling) and I were playing for matches at Monte Carlo last winter. All right, in a minute.

May's minutes were pious to run into hours. Nevertheless June felt a bit less nervous. It was something to have done that much toward resolving the situation however unsatisfactory the report that May might have to make.

If only Lance would call up now, she would feel safe in putting in that long distance call she had been all day contemplating. That it would in all likelihood serve no purpose was beside the point. When you were half distracted you didn't stop to be reasonable.

She never could contain herself without describing, pictures that at least sketched a show of some action to an end. And she had an unaccountable feeling today, it might be a real premonition that something intolerable was suspending a little. The bell had barely chimed before she had the receiver at her ear.

At last!

"That you, June? Tod speaking?"

(Oh but they were cunning those two in their own conceits! May's husband was one of those men of tremendous affairs who never by any chance used a telephone without having the car he wanted first obtained through the agency of an employee. It was perfectly good code for the sake of the ever possible listener in to use Tod's name as a cover.)

Dear! she dared breathe to the wire.

May asked her to call up and find out if you could run out to live with Aunt Agatha tonight. All code of course.

The poor old things, Tonets and May! I'm booked for dinner with the Wedgwoods.

Let me see. With such happiness claring in her heart how keep mischief from coloring her reply. I don't know if I can manage.

I did mean to dine and dance all night at the Ritz with the Mortimers. But if you really think Aunt Aggie is true some.

Sure of it.

"Well then I suppose I'll have to."

"That's a good girl. I'll say you'll show up not later than 7 shall I?"

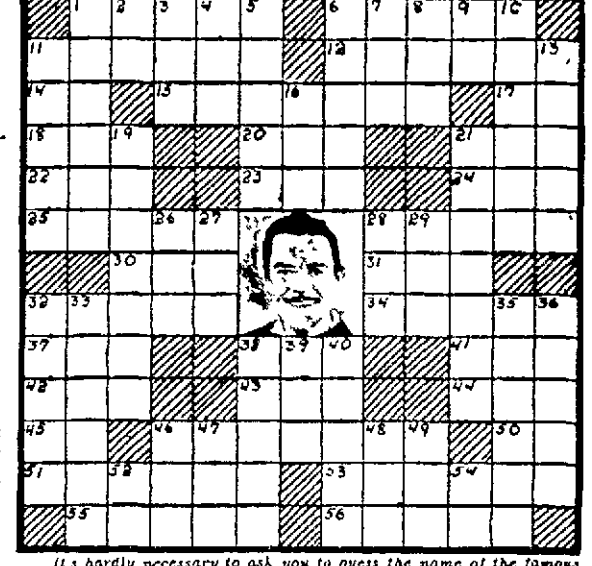

Please—Tod darling.

"Right. Bye."

And all was well that a minute since had been so sadly wry.

The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affections

BY ADELE GARRISON

Purnell Steps Into the Breach

HILLARIA I exclaimed as I saw the colored bell boy of whom Lillian had said. There is nothing he can't do and won't do, and he promptly proceeded to live up to her estimate.

As I understand it he said when I had finished the floral decorations have not arrived and when they do you wish me to unpack them and lay them out so that it will take but a few minutes to put them in their various receptacles.

I took a firm grip up a row of ribbons and nodded while Purnell with an appreciative eye looked around the small trunk room into which I had taken him.

Will you need this room for anything else tonight? he asked.

No.

Then this will do very nicely. I will put a table in here on which I can lay the flowers and have a couple of pitchers of water ready in which I can place them. I am off duty at five o'clock and then I will come directly up here. If I could show me the different receptacles in which you wish to place the flowers, and about how many in each, and the quantity of green I could have them all laid ready to your hand.

They are not ready yet? I replied, but when you come at five o'clock I will have everything ready for you. But if they should not come at all—a friend ordered them for me and I do not know the name of the florist.

I think I can get whatever you wish, he said quietly, if I just know the color. Perhaps you have a bit of cloth or ribbon of the shade you desire which I could match.

My general nerves settled into ease. There was a seriousness about the business, a conscientious little man which gave me the precious assurance that no matter what happened I'dith Fairfax should not get after any discomfiture of mine.

Yes I have. If the flowers do not arrive.

A lady of quality.

I am sure they will though, he said with the ready optimism of his race. I will go directly to the florist's room when I go to town and see that they are sent up the instant they arrive.

"Thank you so much Purnell," I said mentally doubling the tip I had meant to give him for the evening's work.

Thank you Miss Graham," he said stressing the pronoun as he backed out of the door. It is always a pleasure to me to serve a lady of the real quality."

He bowed himself out and when the door was safely closed upon him I was left in helpless laughter again. For a man who had come into the small room just in time to hear Purnell's valiant story.

Did I tell you? she demanded when she regained her own apartment. I feel the most delicious thing you ever saw! But he's so funny and capable as he is comical—ah! I'll let you know a little more—And I think our troubles are over.

Fifth Avenue.

She was a fine picture. When we went to our rooms I dressed for the dinner everything in the living room was in readiness, except the roses. I even had dispatched Purnell for some emergency candles to be used if the on a fifth had ordered to not arrive in time. They were at the shade I wanted but at least they did not clash with my color scheme. Satisfied with them and with Lillian's assurance that I could purchase roses at the last minute I turned my whole attention to my dressing, realizing when I had finished that but for a long time had I looked better than in my gown of palest green and silver, selected because I knew it would blend with Maria's and my color scheme. For a long moment I hesitated over my jewel case, my hand hovering over the exquisite pendant of jade, the most elaborate gift Ducky ever had given me. With the remembrance of that other necklace of imitation just at the time he had commended his gift to Edith Fairfax, I drew back my hand revealing my determination never to wear either of them. Then my mood changed. I would not battle for my husband with Edith Fairfax but I would not deliberately give her the advantage in her way. I knew intuitively that Ducky would be pleased if I put on his gift with which it originally had been worn, and as I fastened it around my neck my pulse leaped involuntarily.

When Lillian turned from her mirror she took a step forward with shining eyes.

You'll knock them all for a goal she said admiringly. That is the most adorable tie.

"If I didn't been taught to say 'thank you' for a compliment," I began.

But you have," she retorted. You're a picture yourself. I said slyly, "in that black lace over the gold slip and your number beads."

"Thank you," she grinned just as Purnell's knock sounded on the door.

"The flowers and other things are all ready for you," he said, even as the telephone shrilled behind me and Lillian answered it.

"Ask her to come up," she said and hanging up the receiver, made a dash for the bedroom.

It's Edie," she said. "Here get on your apron and get busy with the decorations. I'll attend to darling Edith."

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

YESTERDAY was Sunday. My face gets tougher every time it is washed by my aunt, but she gets tougher every time she washes it. By the time it gets as tough as the skin of a hippo—I mean as the skin of some big animal that is easy to wipe, if there are any such she will be as strong as Tunnery, so what's the use? When I had got out of bed and let Jubilee down out of the window by the rope in his teeth I leaned out of the window quite a while and watched for some man to come along and think I was a young lady. Lots of them came along, but only one paid me any mind. And he said, "Hello, Thomas Aris."

RAMBLING AROUND

TWO PRE-SEASON FAVORITES LEAD LEAGUES AS SECOND ROUND STARTS RECREATION LOOPS

BY BOB ELLIOTT

RECREATION ball this week promises little in the line of spectacular battles for the fans unless these upsets that have been knocking the league standings for the proverbial loop continue to take place. Tonight starts the second round of play for all four leagues, with two out of the four pre-season favorites leading their respective leagues.

Tonight's S. S. League No. 2 will play, with most of the interest centering around the sensational Forest Lawn team's battle with the loop leading Lee Street nine at Central. A defeat at this stage of the season will throw the Lee Streeters back into a scrambled tie. Bob Pendon, the Lanner's star outfielder, will be trying for his fourth straight win.

Tuesday night when Church loop No. 1 opens its second round, plenty of fireworks may happen but are more likely not to. Three good games are on tap with the Calvary-St. Mary's day headliners in the list. Rube Gruber, who is living up to his reputation of being one of the toughest hurlers in town will present a tough problem for the Irish to solve. Christians will be fighting with their backs to the wall in the perennial race when they tackle Epworth No. 1 at Fairfield.

THERE will be no games on Thursday night on account of Independence Day and the Industrial League games have been moved up to Wednesday. About the only game that can possibly effect the standings of the higher-ups in the Shovel Club-Fairfield game at Fairfield. Osgood, traveling easily in first place, plays the Hocking Valley at Lincoln park. A good chance for an upset in this last class.

Friday night's games in the Commercial have a good chance to give old man "dope bucket" a terrific setback. The Star-Kappa clash, Eagles Prospect and K. of P. Shovel battles feature the program. Don't be surprised at anything in this program.

And a word about the Ohio teams in the big leagues and American Association. At a first glance these positions don't look so hot but plenty of them can be found by looking at the number of youngsters in their line-ups. Cincinnati is probably the most disappointing of the four with its last place standing in the older major league. However it has been coming up and is now just one game behind Philadelphia.

CLEVELAND Indians are perched in sixth place, 25 points behind Detroit and a safe 72 points ahead of Washington in seventh. Roger Peckinpaugh has a fighting spirit out there at Dunn Field this season and one that will cause plenty of trouble before many more years roll past. In Earl Averill the tribe has the greatest outfield prospect in either big loop. This boy goes and gets 'em and when he rocks that old apple with that telephone pole of his, they stay socked.

The Association looks the same as usual with Toledo in last and Columbus in sixth. The Senators are climbing steadily upward however and if they keep on getting the hurling they're being getting into Mr. Corbin's outfit is going to be making some whooping right up in the first division. The only catch here however is the Cleveland Hoos who may reveal some of their prospects near the close of this season.

Toledo has been one of the real disappointments of the year. Picked by eight of the leading sport writers covering the Association games for first place, the Mud Hens have fumbled miserably and are now playing slipshod ball. Local fans will get a chance to see both teams when Toledo comes to Columbus for a six game series starting July 10th with a twin bill.

Thirty thousand electric light bulbs have been used in one gigantic sign built by an Oxford Street, London, store.

CHICAGO STAR TAKES BAD TRIMMING FROM BOBBY IN PLAY-OFF

Walsh Says Only Hope of Future To Beat Jones Is in Smith, Shute

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 1—Word was expected hourly today to the effect that an enterprising coal dealer had gone and delivered another load to Newlands and, while definite information was lacking, a certain degree of optimism in the authorities was believed to be a reasonable one. He is understood to have bitten the man again, once more beating the latter in the later. And while we are talking for another relative, it might be well to mention that Bobby Jones was another golf champion yesterday.

He won the thirty-third of a List of National Open events, out at Winged Foot in a play-off that rapidly became a laugh-off after the first six or seven holes. So that if there is any further biting to be done around here, the man will do it. Without further solicitation, he will go around behind the clubhouse and bite himself.

The one in this particular instance is Al Espinosa, who tied Jones for the title on Saturday and then lost by 23 strokes in yesterday's play-off for probably as bad a beating as ever on a golf course. Jones had made rounds of 72 in the morning and 69 in the afternoon for a 20 hole total of 141, three under par. Espinosa had 84 in the morning and 80 in the afternoon and you will have to figure for yourself just how much over par this is, because Espinosa is a worthy young man and it is fast becoming necessary to maintain some kind of a censorship over details in connection with what Bobby Jones, the amateur, does to professional golfers.

Furthermore, they are getting old trying to beat him. If professional golf is to sponsor a man who can meet him, it is to sponsor a man who can meet him.

to Find Substitute Religion Is Menace America, Minister Says

Windows Must Be Open Toward Jerusalem, Rev. Groves Asserts in Sermon at Opening of Union Church Services

The Rev. Mr. Groves preached from the text, "His windows were opened toward Jerusalem and he kneeled on his knees, three times a day and prayed and thanked God." His sermon topic was "A Loyal Patriot."

In his sermon, the Rev. Mr. Groves said, "The strength of the character of Daniel lies in the fact that though a captive in a heathen nation, he remained true to the faith of his father."

"Surrounded as he was with the wealth, allurement and low moral standards of an oriental court, yet he was uncorrupted by the temptations constantly before him. His faith in God gave him peace in a new environment, a reliance upon spiritual values and an inspiration for his task. Religion was the deciding factor in his life."

"What America needs today is to keep her windows open to the lead and purpose of the divine. Our government is a plan of God. We must not forget that religion played an important part in the early history of our republic. It has given us our ideals and sustained us in the hours of trial."

"The danger that confronts America today is the temptation to try to find substitutes for religion, a wrong use of our blessings and to live for the passing moment rather than for the future."

"Our life in government, education, the home, business, recreation, must be permeated with religion if we fulfill our God-given mission in the world today. Our windows must be open toward Jerusalem," he concluded.

The Union church services will continue through August and including Sunday, Sept. 1.

REPORTS BAPTISTS COMMEND HOOVER

Rev. L. A. Wood Gives Account of Church Convention's Stand on World Peace

"We condemn modern war as contrary to the spirit of the Prince of Peace and we hail with delight the general pact in renunciation of war as a policy of settling international disputes. We most heartily commend President Hoover for his unqualified strong position as to world peace and the reduction of armaments and by teaching and preaching, we seek to incorporate this Christian ideal in the whole of our life," was one of the resolutions adopted by the Northern Baptist convention at Denver, Colo., according to the report given by the Rev. Lawrence A. Wood, before Trinity Baptist church members and guests yesterday morning.

The Rev. and Mrs. Wood were sent as delegates from the local church. "The theme of the convention was, 'A Christian World,'" he said. "Speakers for the meetings of the convention were not only many prominent ministers of the Baptist churches, and professors from the colleges, but also representatives from other denominations. Among the latter was Bishop F. J. McConnell of the Methodist church and president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. The bishop's address was received with enthusiasm," the Rev. Mr. Wood reported.

"An outstanding feature of the convention was the survey of progress of the denomination during the past 10 years. The N. B. C. met in Denver 10 years ago. Since that time, according to the Rev. F. W. Paden, executive secretary, the record showed that the present membership of the Baptist churches in the northern states has reached 1,415,000. The church property is valued at $205,000,000. The denomination gave $7,942,000 to mission work at home and abroad. The present rate of increase in membership by baptism is more than 61,000 each year," the report concluded.

Allan J. Miller, a business man of Boston, Mass., was elected convention president. The next meeting of the convention will be in Cleveland, O.

Sheep Losses Listed at $20 During Week

Sheep losses amounting to $20 were reported to the county dog warden last week, according to the report filed with the board of county commissioners Saturday afternoon by Dale Rhoads, warden. The loss was suffered by A. W. Northrup, of Prospect township, when dogs killed two sheep.

Eight dogs were impounded during the week, the report shows.

High Call Loan Rate Blocks Stocks Advance

SCARCITY OF MONEY KEEPS PRICES DOWN

Result of Heavy Exchange of Checks in Banks; Rate Drops Later

SOME START HIGH

But Go Down When Week-End Buying Orders Demand Is Filled

BY W. S. COUSINS
L. N. S. Financial Editor

NEW YORK, July 1.—A 12 per cent call loan rate and profit taking in the industrial and utility stocks blocked the advance in the stock market today, after a dozen or more of the leaders had reached up into higher price territory. Scarcity of call money was the direct result of the heavy exchange of checks in the banks, but time money was in supply at 7 1/2 per cent, near the low for the year, and business reports were as favorable as at any time this year.

With the federal treasury reporting a $150,000,000 surplus and corporation earnings for the first half of 1929 measurably higher, prominent speculators were bullish over the long-range prospect of industrial stocks. The first 66 railroads to report May net earnings to the I. C. C. showed 15 per cent increase over the same month last year, on a 5 per cent cost increase.

Most of the well-known industrial and utility stocks started the new week at higher price levels as the result of a considerable increase in order the week accumulation of buying orders. After these orders had been filled, demands fell off and the professionals flooded the market with selling orders.

U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, General Electric, North American and other speculative favorites hung up new high records for the year, about a point higher than the average. North American reached 150 for the first time in 1929, and Westinghouse reached 197 and General Electric 233 1/2, and United States Steel 191 1/2, equivalent to 109 on the stock, including the "rights."

WEEK'S SALES LIGHT

Trading in Marion Steam Shoreland common stock on the New York stock market was unusually light during the week ending Friday, June 28, according to a review of the week's transactions announced today. Sales during the week totaled 100 shares. The stock held at 24 throughout the week. The high for the year stands at 56 1/2 and low at 23 1/2.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

With the exception of a few scattered quarts, strawberries have almost totally disappeared from the local markets. Their season is over, and the berries are gone until next spring, following an active month on Marion markets.

Michigan potatoes have made some decided price gains recently. Potatoes from this northern state, formerly quoted at 23 cents a bushel, now stand around the 30-cent mark. Other potato markets are steady.

Appearance of Marion county tomatoes is expected here within a few weeks. These will almost entirely replace the Texas, Mississippi and hot-house varieties now available. From two pounds for 25 cents to 20 cents a pound is the price range now covered. The choice hot-house varieties bring highest quotations.

Several new varieties of standard items already quoted on the present market list may be available this week, grocers say. With the market still reaching a more definite trend, and with nearly all items well supplied, grocers are seeking choice varieties of each fruit and vegetable. Naturally the prices of choice items will be higher but they are more popular than the cheaper grades, grocers say.
